

Certified Lifejackets over water.

CAA ANO issue

The latest issue of the ANO said that all flights over water must carry certified life-jackets. An exemption was promptly raised as the best jackets for G.A. aircraft are “yoke type” and these are rarely certified.

It's no longer legal to fly over water without a life-jacket, but it does NOT need to be a certified unit so for e.g. the Adams Aviation “FlySafe” is an ideal solution for G.A
